Key Messages

- Homeowners and renters who sustained losses from Hurricane Matthew may be eligible for FEMA assistance. To apply, call 800-621-3362 (voice, 711 or video relay services) or 800-462-7585 (TTY). Lines remain open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day.
- The last day to register for federal disaster assistance is Tuesday, Dec. 13, 2016.
- After they register with FEMA, survivors may receive a disaster loan application from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA). They should complete and submit the SBA loan application so they may be considered by FEMA for certain types of Other Needs Assistance, such as:
 - Grants to help pay for the replacement of a flood-damage vehicle
 - Replacement of essential household items and clothing
 - Moving and storage costs
 - Replacement of necessary educational materials (computers, school books)
- Survivors who need legal help with disaster-related issues, such as insurance claims, landlord disputes, contractor problems, or the replacement of documents destroyed by Hurricane Matthew, may call the legal aid HOTLINE 877-797-2227 ext. 120.
